

ANZSOM Annual Scientific Meeting Adelaide, South Australia 27 to 30 October 2019

CALL FOR PAPERS

The Organising Committee of the ANZSOM 2019 Annual Scientific Meeting is now calling for papers for this major educational event. The technical program will run over three days from Monday 28th to Wednesday 30th October. Joined by the Australasian Faculty of Occupational and Environmental Medicine (AFOEM) as scientific partner, the event will deliver a diverse and high-quality educational experience for participants.

The theme of the conference “Making it Work: Practical solutions in occupational health” will accommodate a broad range of papers while focusing on practical solutions to existing and emerging workplace health challenges and their relevance to workers, employers and occupational health professionals.

Papers will be allocated to one of two formats:

- 15 minute oral presentation
- 5 minute “brief reports” format

All papers presented at the conference will be eligible for the David Goddard Best Paper Award which will be judged based on the following criteria:

- Relevance to the conference theme of “Making it Work: Practical solutions in occupational health”
- Technical / scientific merit
- Original work that contributes to advancement in occupational health
- Quality of presentation, including layout, content and timeframes adhered to.

Presenters must register for the conference but will not be required to pay registration for the day their paper is being presented.

Please complete the form overleaf and forward to the ANZSOM Secretariat by Monday 5th August 2019. Email: secretariat@anzsom.org.au or fax (613) 9428 4872.

NOTE: If approval is required from your organisation, this must be secured before paper submission and relevant evidence of approval provided with this application.

Successful submissions will be notified in writing. Please see the ANZSOM website or contact the Secretariat for more information.

We look forward to seeing you in Adelaide!

Kind regards

Dr Geoffrey Graham and Dr John Cross
