ANZSOM Webinar Series SPONSORSHIP PROSPECTUS

GOOD WORK, SAFE WORKPLACES, HEALTHY WORKERS

PARTNER WITH US TO DELIVER QUALITY EDUCATION IN OCCUPATIONAL MEDICINE

The Australian and New Zealand Society of Occupational Medicine (ANZSOM) is a society where the highest value is placed on GOOD WORK, SAFE WORKPLACES, and HEALTHY WORKERS.

With over 350 members across Australia and New Zealand we are driven to connect our members with occupational medicine and health experts, to build their knowledge and skills and make connections to support their practice.

By necessity, our program of webinars took off in 2020, fulfilling a need for regular education and engagement that we could no longer deliver face-to-face. The result is a popular ongoing series of monthly webinars, featuring high profile speakers and enabling participation from members and non-members across the country, as well as internationally.

We are now pleased to offer partnership in this educational program, with sponsorship of individual webinars or a selection of your choice. Read on to find out more and please contact us to discuss your ideas.
